

The Results at a 100% Success Rate

Stats

With an NPS (Net Promoter Score) of 10/10, Terramera continues to use Locelle's mentorship platform to further achieve their company goals and develop the professional growth of women at their workplace, tackling tough topics, such as: stepping into leadership, career growth and confidence, network building, negotiation, speaking up and building influence.

100% of Terramera mentees agree that sessions are helpful to achieve their goals and to develop leadership skills at work.

Book An Intro Call

Get started to achieve the strategic goals of your company, and retain top talent within your organization!

Book an intro call by clicking on:

<https://locelle.com/locelle-teams-mentorship-for-women/>.

"The Locelle program is really beneficial in complementing any company's professional development program. It's important to have as a part of your company fabric, that specific focus on women and specific issues that we face in the workplace."

Dr. Annett Rozek,
Chief Scientific Officer at Terramera.

"Locelle just has everything facilitated and laid out for you so that you know exactly what you're going into. It's been really beneficial and has opened up a lot of conversations about professional development for women, and the importance of having a mentor."

Ms. Sydney Jung,
People Operations Generalist at Terramera.

"I think Locelle is really valuable and I would recommend it to anyone at any level of their professional growth."

Ms. Sarah Goble,
Site Operations Manager at Terramera.

"Before signing up to the Locelle's mentorship program via Terramera, I did not have the resources to connect with a Black woman mentor."

Ms. Renée Christie,
Research Associate at Terramera.